

Research-Based Prevention Programs List

As you continue your prevention program planning, consult these federal agencies' program and curricula recommendations. These programs are evidence-based and have been examined and approved by these agencies.

You will find substance abuse education, violence prevention, family/parent education and intervention programs listed on the following Web sites:

United States Department of Education, Office of Safe and Drug-Free Schools

http://www.ed.gov/admins/lead/safety/exemplary01/report_pg3.html

National Research-based Effective Prevention Programs

<http://nrepp.samhsa.gov>

Center for Substance Abuse Prevention

<http://www.casat.unr.edu/bestpractices/alpha-list.php>

National Institute for Drug Abuse

<http://www.drugabuse.gov/Prevention/examples.html>

Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention

http://dsgonline.com/mpg2.5/mpg_index.htm